

Author's Notes

Hello, I'm S0rahana.

You've just read the first volume of "Hell's Contract". This is actually my first written story and also classified as my masterpiece. To tell you the truth, this story is already being nurtured inside my head for about four years. That is why, finishing the first volume is actually placing me into cloud nine.

Though not published yet..., I'm really not in a worry. It's because I just can't stop myself from writing. This is already a hobby, its one unique hobby actually..., a hobby that makes progress every single day (I really love how that sounds).

Let's start first with myself. Honestly I'm not really sure if this story will take the attention of the readers. I'm still an amateur writer, that's why my work is kind of filled with many grammatical errors and such. My writing schedule is just precise and limited as it is, it's from 10:00PM to 12:00AM. That info directly shows that I'm a nocturnal person.

I'm also the one who made the art. But I'll tell you I'm not a good artist. Most of those illustrations have their direct reference, so if someone there knows where the reference came from, you shouldn't take things seriously okay? Still, I wanted to acknowledge the people behind those references.

Thanks! It's actually a great help for a starter like me.

Now for the story. This story will take long enough to meet its end. According to my own estimation, I'll need to write six volumes just to tell the entire tale. It's actually long, so to all my readers, simply assume that the Volume 01 is composed of the entire prologue. But don't worry, Volume02 will be as great or even greater than ever. There are characters that hasn't revealed their true nature yet. And on the next following chapters, the character of [NameLess] will be revealed. The chapter five showcased the Executioner's story, Tatsuh's background is the most important of all, because whether you believe it or not, Tatsuh Yatogami is actually the main character. It's not Seto or Ai, so those who misinterpreted, please spare me T_T.

Now that everything's clear.., I can proceed. This time, the rivalry will begin and the mysteries will unfold. There are still mysterious characters like Zack Reinhardt, Archbishop, the [Facilis Descencus Avernii], [NameLess], "The Hell's Contract", and many more. I really don't have the intent to spoil the plot, but I'm actually excited to myself once I begin on writing the roles of each.

I really wanted to thank my readers who have consumed their time on reading this unpublished amateur-written light novel. Though the prologue and the next two chapters is really slow paced, I'm still glad that you've taken your time and given this little piece of work your patience. It almost took me a year to finish one volume, but it's really worth it. I can describe that it is beyond "fun". I really enjoy it each time the story moves along and arrives to every chapter's end. At the same time, it feels like I'm making a progress in life for each day.

Below is the design of my upcoming character in Volume02. Just look how cute she is. Don't worry, she's not an Executioner.

Again; thanks' for the reference.

In case a professional writer reads this work, this is my proposal. Since I found myself enjoyed on writing stories, I decided that I wanted to pursue my career as a novelist. I know that I'm not the best, but I think it's really worth a shot.
