

Alarm_Clock_Project_S0rahana_Vol:1

Every time I See an Alarm Clock I Remember Something Vol 1:

Story Synopsis:

A cynical alien fanatic, high school student Sora Hana, embarks on a quest to discover alien life.

Because no one has ever taken her seriously, she grows to view her life as a cliché'. Sora becomes certain that if she can't show anyone anything of interest—like proof that aliens truly exist— then she will simply resign herself to a life of utter boredom.

On the way home from school one afternoon she accidentally witnesses a UFO crash-land and cautiously ventures to the landing site to observe the aftermath. When a beautiful girl emerges from the wreckage it gives Sora's life the excitement she's been desperately craving—for a time.

The unusual girl introduces herself as a time traveler from the future instead of an alien being from a distant planet. Sora's high expectations leave her dejected and disappointed. Abandoning the girl at the crash site she heads home and peacefully falls asleep. Upon awakening she discovers that her grandmother has decided to shelter the wayward time traveler in their home.

The time traveler introduces herself as Airi Ichinose. Her one and only goal is to go back into the past to discover the father she has never met. Sora's disappointment slips away as she learns more about Airi and her unusual quest, agreeing to help her in her adventure.

Arguing incessantly, the two search daily for any trace of Airi's long-lost father. Will they achieve their goal despite their differences—or will Airi leave empty-handed?